GOLF FORMAT: BEST BALL

Each player hits his/her own ball throughout the round. However, at the end of each hole, the lowest score, or “best ball” is used as the team score. For example, if Player A makes a 5, Player B gets a 6, Player C gets a 4 and Player D gets a 6, the score recorded as the team score is 4, the lowest score. Handicaps will be factored in following the round.

In the event of a tie for first place and runner-up, a putting contest will decide the winners.

SPEED OF PLAY

If it becomes clear that a player will not have the best ball for a hole, that player is allowed to pick up his/her ball to move the game along more quickly. Players should play “ready golf.”
